PUBLIC COMMENT

Paul Wright, West Point – asked who the taxpayers can hold reliable for mismanagement of funds. Mr. Wright stated the county cannot afford to build the Juvenile Center and operate each year.

Attorney Luhman stated contracts are approved by the commissioners. Similar to Highway projects, in the event of problem a change order would be submitted and approved by the commissioners for the project. The Board of Commissioner is the administrator/manager for the county.

Mr. Wright suggested the amount of money spent on juveniles being sent out-of-county may be less expensive then building the center. He said the amount of money to operate the facility is likely to be a great deal more than the amount currently being spent. He asked the county attorney which type of action it would take to stop the construction of the Juvenile Center.

Commissioner Knochel stated the council will take the next step towards the center with the sale of the bonds. Attorney Luhman confirmed the council will take the next step but the commissioners have the final approval as administrators of the county.

Commissioner Byers stated once a bid is submitted for construction, the bid price can increase 10% to cover inflation over the life of the project. He explained the county will spend tax payer dollars on juvenile regardless of the location and the county has to decide on spending it locally or out-of-county. Commissioner Byers added we need to treat our children early and rehabilitate them before they are adult offenders.

Commissioner Murtaugh stated the current process of treating juveniles is not working, if we don't address the issue we will be paying for it in the future at a higher cost.

Mr. Wright stated the new center will hire 40 new employees to treat juveniles at full capacity. He asked "What if the center is not full, how will the county afford to pay those employees?" He said this project will be a huge white elephant and the county will pay on it forever and it will drain the county.

Michelle Blaas, Lafayette – asked if the $2.5 million paid yearly for juveniles includes the Department of Corrections funding. She suggested the figures the county is working with are incorrect with regards to the Department of Corrections funding. She asked the commissioners "If the facility is paid with EDIT tax funds do they anticipate a decline in the revenue with the current economy?"

Commissioner Knochel stated working taxpayers contribute to the EDIT fund and when individuals are laid off the amount will surely decrease. He confirmed the need to address the issue. Commissioner Byers stated the county has earmarked 2 years of funding for the Juvenile Center.

Ms. Blaas asked "With the discussion of LOIT taxes in March, is the county considering implementing a new tax because it is worried about general operating funds for the Juvenile Center?"

Attorney Luhman confirmed the council is required by the state to discuss LOIT yearly. Commissioner Byers noted the county considered it last year and decided against it.

Ms. Blaas said EDIT funds will decrease and the county should be concerned about the revenue and the new employees that will be hired for the facility.

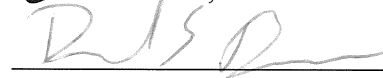

Commissioner Murtaugh stated the per diem on out-of-county facilities currently being used will increase by the same rate.

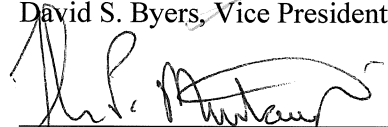

Ms. Blaas suggested the county move away from the $2.5 million income they are projecting because she does not believe this is an accurate figure.

- Commissioner Byers moved to adjourn.
